

COMMENTS: The word "force" is defined as either a push or a pull. There are many forces. When you open a door, write your name, or pick up something, you are using a force. Many of the forces you exert are used in opposing other forces. A force that opposes the force you exert is called resistance. Gravity is one of the most common forces of resistance.

A Fill in the blanks.

1. Force is either a PUSH OR PULL.
2. There are many _____.
3. Opening a _____ is using a force.
4. A force uses _____.
5. We cannot _____ some forces.
6. The force of _____ holds us down.
7. Many forces _____ other forces.
8. An opposing force is called _____.
9. We _____ force almost constantly.
10. When you _____ your name, you are using a force.

forces push or pull write resistance door see energy gravity oppose use

B True or False

- T
- _____ 1. A force is exerted to cause movement.
 - _____ 2. Some forces are stronger than others.
 - _____ 3. Force cannot be measured.
 - _____ 4. The wind is not a force.
 - _____ 5. Forces use various forms of energy.
 - _____ 6. A rocket is using a force.
 - _____ 7. A rocket is using an opposing force.
 - _____ 8. We use energy and force when we work.
 - _____ 9. Force is either a push or a pull.

Force

C Place X by each word that could tell about force.

- | | |
|------------------|-----------------|
| 1. push X | 15. pull |
| 2. use | 16. happy |
| 3. sad | 17. opposing |
| 4. exert | 18. love |
| 5. hate | 19. common |
| 6. reason | 20. gravity |
| 7. motion | 21. thoughtless |
| 8. blank | 22. movement |
| 9. gravity | 23. void |
| 10. wind | 24. resistance |
| 11. hole | 25. tower |
| 12. energy | 26. music |
| 13. enjoyment | 27. writing |
| 14. work | 28. walking |